Dear

Application for a work visa for:

Date of birth:

Thank you for your application for a work visa. We received your application on 29 May 2012. We attach the receipt for your fee.

Our decision on your application

I am pleased to tell you that we have approved your application for a New Zealand work visa.

Your work visa

Your work visa is endorsed in your passport. Your work visa allows you to work in New Zealand in the occupation and workplace specified on the visa label. The expiry date of your visa is also written on this label. Please make sure you read your label to check the conditions of your visa.

Travel Conditions

Your work visa includes travel conditions which allow you to re-enter New Zealand as many times as you like until the date specified on your visa label. If you depart New Zealand and intend to return after this date you will need to apply to Immigration New Zealand for a new visa.

Changes to your situation

If your work visa is based upon a job offer in New Zealand, you must tell us if you stop working in that job. If your work visa is based on a partnership you must tell us if that partnership ends.

Applying for a further visa

You must hold a valid visa at all times. You must depart New Zealand or apply for a new visa before this visa expires. If you apply for a new visa, you will need to show that you meet the immigration instructions at that time. You need to make sure that you always have enough money to buy a ticket home in case you can not get a new visa.

Liability for deportation and appeal rights

If you remain after it expires you will be in New Zealand unlawfully; you will then be liable for deportation. If you are deported from New Zealand, you will be unable to return until the end of any prohibition period and have paid any costs of your deportation. If you are in New Zealand unlawfully and depart voluntarily you may still be deemed to be deported, but you will not be subject to any prohibition period.

If you wish to appeal against your liability for deportation, you may do so on humanitarian grounds no later than 42 days after first being in New Zealand unlawfully. Further information on how to appeal to the Immigration and Protection Tribunal is available on its website: www.justice.govt.nz/tribunals/ipt
